ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Initiation of present work would not have been possible without support of astute academician Dr. J D Jadeja's and his guidance, which has proved to be so encouraging as an acknowledgement would like to call him as revered sir and philosopher.

My acknowledgement will be incomplete if do not extend a special thanks to the team of academician who taught and guided us during our course work so not mentioning any particular name. Gratitude to the entire university for designing such an in depth course work which showed me a further path with the point of academician and researcher.

I extend my gratitude to all the teaching and non-teaching members who encouraged me at faculty of management studies.

Never ending debate will always on about gap in academia and industry but here another special thanks to professionals of Indian pharmaceutical industry who are as respondent provided valuable input apart from organizational support.