SMT. HANSA MEHTA LIBRARY
The M. S. University of Baroda

BIBLIOGRAPHY

BIBLIOGRAPHY

Abott, J. (2005). women administrator's perceptions of career progression in Minnesota State college and Universities: Personal and structural factors. Dissertation Abstract International : A Humanities and Social Science. 66 (4).

Adams, E. (2006). Voices from two sides of the Atlantic: A multiple case study of women's leadership. Dissertation Abstract International : A Humanities and Social Science. 67 (12).

Adell, G. (2004). African American female administrators : leadership in context. Dissertation Abstract International : A Humanities and Social Science. 66 (3).

Aery, S. (1977). Organisational effectiveness and the woman administrator. NASPA Journal. 16(2).

Albino, J. E. (1992). Strategy: The dirty word that women must learn. Record, 73.

Altekar, A.S. (1938). The position of women in Hindu civilization – pre-histopric times to the present days

Angles, C.M. (1990). Career advancement strategies utilized by selected women college and university administrators in a Midwestern state. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 50 (3).

Arnold, V and Davidson, M.J. (1990), "Adopt a Mantor – the New way Ahead for women Managers?", Women in Management Review and Abstracts, Vol5.

Ashbyscott, T.M. (2005). Women of colour leaders in H.E : four portraits. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 66 (4).

Asthana, S. (1992). Women Executives – Transition from home to boardroom. Mimeographed paper read at seminar on women in management: Challenges and Opportunities. Baroda Management Association. Baroda.

Astin, H.S. (1984). The Meaning of work in Women's lives: A socio-psychological Model of Career Choice and work behavior. The Counselling Psychologist. Vol. 12.

Ausejo, L. (1993). Women administrators' emerging personal and professional concerns. In P.T. Mitchell (Ed). Cracking the wall: Women in higher education administration. Washington, D.C: College and University Personnel Association.

Ballentine, A. R. (2000). A sociological multiple life history study of three female former community college presidents in a southeastern system. Dissertation Abstracts International, A Humanities and Social Science, 61(06).

Bashaw, C. T. & Nidiffer, J. (2002). Women administrators in higher education today and in the future. In J. Nidiffer, & C. T. Bashaw (Eds.), Women administrators in higher education: Historical and contemporary perspectives (pp. 271-278). Albany, NY: State University of New York Press.

Beaty, D. M. & Pankake, A. (2001). Primary experiences of female secondary principals. Submitted proposal, SIG: Research on Women and Education.

Black G, (2002). Personal and professional challenges faced by women who are administrators in higher education. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 63 (5).

Bogden, R. C. & Biklen, S. C. (1998). Qualitative research in education: An Introduction in theory and methods. Needham Heights, M.A: Allyn & Bacon.

Bolman, L. G., & Deal, T. E. (1997). Reframing organizations: Artistry, choice, and leadership (2nd ed.). San Francisco, CA: Jossey-Bass.

Bolt, M (2001). Career paths of mid level female administrators in Community colleges. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 62 (12).

Bonusco, C., and shakeshaft, C. (1983). The gender of secondary school principals. Integrated Education, 21(6).

Brooker, J.L. (1998). Significant leadership developmental experiences of five pioneering women executives in higher education. Dissertation Abstract International : A Humanities and Social Science, 60 (3).

Boyum, B (2006). A phenomenological inquiry of the work and home life Experiences of mothers who are college presidents. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 67 (1).

Brass, D.J. (1985). Men's and Women's Network: A study of interaction patterns and influence in an organization. Academy of Management Journal. Vol 28.

Brooker, J.L. (1988).Significant leadership developmental experiences of five pioneering women executives in higher education. Dissertation Abstract International : A Humanities and Social Science, 60 (3).

Brown, K (2003). Career satisfaction and life choices of Black women presidents in traditionally Anglo Public four year higher education institutions. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 64 (3).

Bruegman, S. A. (1995). Women chief executive officers in California higher education: Influences of mentoring and other factors on career advancement. Doctoral dissertation. University of California, Davis.

Buddhapriya, S.(1998). Women in Management. New Delhi: APH Publishing Corporation.

Burke, R.J. and McKeen, C.A. (1990). Mentoring in organizations: implications or Women. Journal of Business Ethics. Vol. 9.

Burt, R.S. (1992). Structural Holes: The social structure of Competition. Cambridge, MA.: Harvard University Press.

Carlson, R.O., and Schmuck, P.A (1981). The sex dimensions of careers in educational management: Overview and synthesis. In P.A Schmuck, W.W. Charters, Jr., and R.O. Carlson (Eds)Educational Policy and management : Sex differentials. San Francisco: Academic Press.

Cassandra, M 2005, Widening the Circle: Mentoring and the learning process for American Indian Women in Tribal college administration, Vol 66. (7).

Castro, M. M. (1990). The Superintendency: Female perspectives on the 'top' position. Dissertation Abstract International : A Humanities and Social Science. 51 (12).

Chamberlain, M. K. (Ed.). (1991). Women in academe: Progress and prospects. New York: Russell Sage Foundation.

Charles, N and Davis, C.A., (2000). Cultural stereotypes and gendering of senior Management. Sociological review,. Vol 48, No.(4)

Chitiga, M (2001). The experiences of women leaders in the higher education sector of Zimbabwe. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 62 (7).

Chitnis, S. (1997). The place of women in Management of Higher Education in India. Paper presented in UGC Commonwealth Secretariat Workshop on women and Management in Higher Education.

Chitnis, S. (1992).*The teacher role in the college syste*m. Mimeo, Bombay: Tata Institute of Social Sciences.

Chitnis, S. (1993). The Place of Women in the Management of Higher Education in India. In: Dines. Women in Higher Education Management. Paris: UNESCO/Commonwealth Secretariat.

Chou, C. (1992). Gender differences in the academic reward system nation wide study of university faculty members IN Taiwan. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 54 (3)

Choudhary, R. (1978). Status and role of women : Great Indian women through the ages, in Role and status of women in Indian Society. Calcutta: Firma KLM Pvt. Ltd.

Clark, Caferella, R.S and Ingram, P.B (1999). Women in leadership: Living with the constraints of the Glass Ceiling. Initiatives. 59.

Clark, M. C., & Caffarella, R. S. (1999). Theorizing adult development. In M. C. Clark & R. S. Caffarella (Eds.), An Update on adult development: New ways of thinking about the life course. New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education. San Francisco: Jossey-Bass.

Clemons, S. A. (1998). How women administrators in public higher education choose and engage in their "battles:" A phenomenological study (Doctoral dissertation, Colorado State University, 1998). Dissertation Abstracts International, 60 (3).

Cline, K. R. (1996). Pressing the ceiling: Stories of women executives in higher education (Doctoral dissertation, Hofstra University, 1996). Dissertation Abstracts International, 57(6)..

Coleman, M. (1996). Barriers to Career Progress for Women in Education: The Perceptions of Female Headteachers. Educational Research 38(3).

Connie, S. A. (1988). Women's place: Management. New Jersey : Prentice Hall, pub., Inc.

Cook, D.R. (2007). Women in high school principalship. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 68 (5).

Denzin N. & Lincoln, Y. (1998). Strategies of qualitative inquiry. Thousand Oaks California: Sage Publications.

Desai, U. (1991). University Vice Chancellors : profiles in Leadership. Delhi: Hindustan Publishing Corporation.

Dickson, A. (2000). Women at work: Strategies for survival and success. Dover, NH: Kogan Page.

Die, A. H. (1999). Reflections on presidential longevity. The Presidency, 2(3).

Dietz, L. D. (1997). Women in higher education administration: A cultural approach. (Doctoral dissertation, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, 1997). Dissertation Abstracts International, 59 (1).

Dines, E. (1993). Women in Higher Education Management. Paris, UNESCO/ Commonwealth Secretariat.

Douglas, S.J., & Michaels, M.W. (2004). The mommy myth: The idealization of motherhood and how it has undermined all women. New York: Free Press

Drury, M. (2008) Women Chief Information Officers in higher education. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 70(1).

Dublon, F. (1983). Women doctoral students in higher education administration: Life style aspirations and multiple role commitments. Journal of the National Association for Women Deans, Administrators and Counselors. 47(1).

Eagly, A. H., & Karau, Jhonson, S.. (1992). Role congruity theory of prejudice toward female leaders. Psychological Review. 109.

Earlene, R.(2006). Female African American Presidents: Their stories and their retirements. *Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. V*ol 67(5).

Edson, S. (1981). If they can, I can: Women aspirants to administrative positions in public schools. In P. Schmuck, W. Charters, & R. Carlson (Ed.), Educational Policy & Management. New York: Academic.

Edwards, N 2002 Barriers to women's advancement in higher educaiotn as perceived by faculty and administrators Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 63 No 11 May 2003.

Epstein, C.F. (1970). Woman's place: Options and limits in professional careers. Berkeley and Los Angeles, CA: university of California Press.

Fagenson, E. (1990), "Perceived Masculine and Feminine Attributes Examined as a function of individuals' Sex and level in the Organisational power hierarchy: A test of four theoretical perspectices", Journal of applied Psychology, Vol. 2.

Fennema, E., and Ayer, M.J.(1984). Women and education: Equity or equality? Berkeley, CA: McCutchan Publishing Corporation.

Ferguson, R. (1995).Answers to the Mommy Track, in: Ritvo, R. A.; Litwin, A. H.; Butler, L. (Eds.): Managing in the Age or Change – Essential Skills to Manage Today's Diverse Workforce, Irwin, Burr Ridge.

Flanagan, T (2002). Defining moments: The creation and impact of leadership values for women in higher education administration Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 63(7).

Frasher, J.M. & Frasher, R.S. (1979). Educational Administration: A Feminine Profession. Educational Administration Quarterly. 15 (2).

Freeman, G. (1977). A profile of top-level woman administrators in higher Education in Washington, D.C. (ERIC Document Reproduction Service No. ED

Freeman, G. P . (1992). Career advancement of Women administrators in Higher education : Trends, barriers and progress. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 53 (7).

Flynn, M.T. (1993). Questioning the system: A feminist perspective in P.t.Mitchell (Ed). Cracking the wall: women in Higher education administration. Washington, D.C. College and University personnel Association.

Follon, S.E. (1983). Role models and mentors: A study of the career patterns of women in higher education administration. Dissertation Abstracts International, 44(3)

Gaudino, R. (1965). The Indian University. Mumbai : Popular Prakashan.

Gerdes, E. P. (2003). Do it your way: Advice from senior academic women. Innovative Higher Education, 27.

Germany, C. (2005). African American women in educationl leadership: An Examination of their characteristics, attitudes, leadership styles, self images and perceptions" Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. vol 65,(10).

Gilligan, C. (1982). In a different voice: Psychological theory and women's development. Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press.

Goffin, K. (2002), "Reportory grid technique", in Partington, D. (Ed.), Essential Skills for Manageent Research, Sage Publications, London

Gold, A. (1996) 'Women into Educational Management', European Journal of Educational Management 31(4): 419–33.

Grewal, B.K . (2002). Women superintendents in California: Characteristics, barriers, career paths and successes. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 63 (4).

Griffith, P.G., MacBride-King, J.L. (1998), Closing the Gap. New York : Catalyst.

Groch, E. (2005). Prevailing factors that promote women's success in educational executive positions: A qualitative meta analysis. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 66 (8).

Grogan, M. (1999). Equity/Equality issues of gender, race and class. Educational Administration Quarterly, 35, 518-536.

Growe, R., & Montgomery, P. (1999). Women and the leadership paradigm: Bridging the gender gap. (ERIC Document Reproduction Service No. ED 419 292)

Gold, A. (1996) 'Women into Educational Management', European Journal of Educational Management 31(4).

Gupton, S.L and Slick, G.A. (1996) Highly successful women administrators: the inside story of how they got there. Thousand Oaks, CA : Corwin Press.

Guteck, B. A. (2001). Women and paid work. Psychology of Women Quarterly, 25, 379-393.

Hakim, C. (2000). Work Life style Choices in the 21sr century, 2nd ed., Oxford University Press, Oxford.

Hale, M.M. (1992). Mentoring. In M.E Guy & M.E. Sharpe (Eds), Women and men of the states : Public administrators at the State level, Armonk, NY: M.E Sharpe.

Hall, V. (1996). Dancing on the Ceiling: A study of women managers in education. London: Chapman.

Hall, J.M. (1992).The stories and images of women leaders. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 53 (8).

Hansard Report. (1990). The report of the Hansard Society Commission on women at the top. London, A.L. Publishing Services. 1990.

Harley, J. Women's experiences as a professional administrator at the University of Kentucky. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science., 1993, 53 (3).

Harris, S., Lowery, S., & Arnold, M. (2002). When women educators are Commuters in commuter marriages. Advancing Women in Leadership Journal, 10. Retrieved September 11 2006 from www.advancingwomen.com/awl/winter2002

Harrow, A. J. (1993). Power and politics: The leadership challenge. In P. T. Mitchell (Ed.), Cracking the wall: Women in higher education administration. Washington, DC: The College and University Personnel Association.

Harter, C.C. (1993). Women, leadership and the academy: Anecdotes and Observations. In P.T. Mitchell (Ed). Cracking the wall: Women in higher Education. Washington, D.C: College and University Personnel Association.

Hartman, M.S., ed (1999). Talking Leadership: Conversations with powerful women. New Brunswick: Rutgers Univesity Press.

Haughton, E. (2002, October). Why it's still hard to be a woman. The times Educational Supplement. (4504).

Hawkins, L.G. (1991). Barriers associated with the limited number of females in public school leadership positions in South Carolina. Dissertation Abstract International : A Humanities and Social Science. 52 (12).

Henning, M., Jardin, A. (1978). The Managerial Woman. London: Marion Boyars.

Hochschild, A.R.(1997).The time bind:When work becomes home and home becomes work. New York:Metrapolitan Books.

Hojgaard, L.(2002). Tracing differentiation in gendered leadership: An analysis of differences in gender composition in top management in business, politics and the civil service. Gender, work and Organisation. 9 (1).

Hubbard, S (1993)."Factors facilitating administrative placement of females in higher education administration". Dissertation Abstract International: Humanities and Social Science. Vol 54 (2).

Hubbard, S.S., and Robbinson, J.P.(1994).Gender profiles and career aspirations of administrators in higher education. Paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the Mid-South Educational Research Association, Nashville, TN.

Hutchinson, S.L , A profile of women superintendents and women aspiring to the superintendency in the state of Missouri. *Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science.*52 (12). 2001.

Irby, B & Brown, G . (1990). Perceptions of Women aspiring to administrative positions. Th. Delta Kappa Gamma Bulletin, , 61(4).

Ironside, E. (1982). Career paths of Women administrators in higher education institutions: Perceptions of motivation and opportunity. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 43, no. 5: 1441 A.

Ironside, E. (1983, March). Women as administrators in higher education: Qualitative data for value questions. Paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the Association for the Study of Higher Education, Washington, DC.

Johnson, L.(2005). An analysis of major facilitators & to their success as reported by women administrators. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 66 (10).

Johnsurd, L.K. and Heck, R.H. (1994). Administrative promotion within a university: The cumulative impact of gender. The Journal of Higher Education. 65(1).

Johnsurd, L.K. (1991). Administrative promotion: Then power of gender. The Journal of Higher Education. 62(2).

Jones, B. (1993). Redesigning the ivory tower: Opening the drawbridge to women with multiple roles. In P.T. Mitchell (Ed). Cracking the wall: Women Higher Education. Washington, D.C.: College and University Personnel Association.

Kampel, D .(2006). Learning leadership: women presidents of colleges and universities. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 66 (12).

Kanake, L. (1997). Gender disparities among the Academic staff in Kenyan Universities. Nairobi: Luceum Educational Consultants Ltd.

Kaplan, S., and Helly, D. (1984). An agenda for senior women administrators. NewDirections for Higher Education. 12(1).

Katundano, T. (2005). A woman's leadership experience at a private coeducational university in the Midwest. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science Vol 67 (1).

Kimmel, E. B. (2004). The experience of feminism. Psychology of Women Quarterly, 13.

Kinnersley, R (2009). Mentoring relationships of female administrators in Tennessee higher education, Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science., Vol 70(5).

Konard, A.M., and Pfeffer, J.(1991). Understanding the hiring of women and minorities in educational institutions. Sociology of Education. 64.

Kreps, J.M (1974). The women Professional in Higher Education. In P.A. Graham and W.T Furniss (Ed.), Women in Higher Education (pp 75-94). Washington, D.C.: American Council of Education.

Kuhnle, B 2007, Facing adversity: Leadership lessons from women presidents at prominent research universities, *Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science.*vol 68 No 3 September 2007

Laden, B. V. (1996). The role of professional associations in developing academic and administrative leaders. New Directions for Community Colleges, 95, 47-58.

Lagakis, V. (2001) "Female chief executive officers: A national study of the Profile and career progression of female presidents/chancellors in public master's colleges and universities I and II in the United States" Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science, vol 62 (9).

Lahtinen, H.K. (1993), "Mentoring Executive Development", Executive Development, Vol 6.

Leach, M.T. (2000). Career paths of female administrators in the University of North Carolina system. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 61 (3).

LeBlanc, D. (1993). Barriers to women's advancement into higher education administration. In P.T. Mitchell (Ed), Cracking the wall: Women in higher education administration. Washington, DC: The College and University Personnel Association.

Leconte S 2005, Women at the top: Their perceptions of leadership roles in higher education administration, Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science vol 67 (1).

Legget, A . (2002). Emerging leadership among African American female educators *Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. V*ol. 63 (5)

Liff, S., Ward, K. (2001), "Distorted views through the glass ceiling", Gender, Work, and Organization, Vol. 8 (1).

Linda, K .(1999). Gender and Careers in *Handbook of Gender and work. S*age Publication.

Lodiaga, N.J & Mbevi, B.M.(1995). Status and advancement of women professionals in agriculture and environmental institutions and public universities in Kenya. AWLAE Programme.

Long, J.(2008). Women Chief Financial Officers in higher education overcoming internal and external barriers to leadership, Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science Vol 69(5).

Lund, H . A. (1998). Single sex profession? Female staff numbers in Commonwealth Universities. London: The commonwealth Higher Education management service.

Lynch, K. K. (1990). Women in school administration: Overcoming the barriers to advancement. Women's Educational Equity Act Publishing Center Digest. Washington, DC: U. S. Department of Education, Education Development Center. (ERIC Document Reproduction Service No. ED 360 753)

Madson, S.(2007). Women University Presidents : Career paths and Educational backgrounds. Acdemic Leadership, The Online Journal. Vol 5 (1).

Mancinin, D. (1993). Career paths to the academic Presidency: A comparison study of gender differences. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 54 (12).

Mark, S.F. (1981). Leadership in Higher Education: A critical review of sex differences. Journal of Educational Equity and Leadership. 1.

Marshall, S.(2002).Wwomen higher education administrators with children: Negotiating personal and professional lives. *Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science.*Vol 63(12).

Maskell-Pretz , M. and Holpkins, W.E. (1997). Women in Engineering :toward a barrier free work environment. Journal of management in Engineering. Vol 1(2).

Mc Neer, E.J. (1983). Two opportunities for mentoring: A study of women's career development in higher educiotn administration. The journal of the National Association for Women Deans, Administrators AND Counselors. 47(1).

Mehta, R. (1970). The Western Educated Hindu Women, Bombay: Asia Publishing House.

Metz, I., Tharenou, P. (2001).Women's career advancement. Gender & Organization Management Vol. 26.

Misra, R. (1957). Women in Mughal India. Delhi: oriental Publishers

Moore, R .(2003) Leadership styles of African-American women presidents of College and Universities : Lifting as we climb, Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science 64 (5).

Moore, K.M., & Sagaria, M.A. (1981). Women administrators and mobility: The second struggle. Journal of the National Association for Women Deans, Administrators and Counselors. 44(2).

Murphy, J. & Hallinger, P.,. (1991). Developing leaders for tomorrow's schools. Phi Delta Kappan, 72, 514-520.

Mullei, V. (1995). Enhancing women participation in Teaching, Research and management of Higher Education. The case of Nairobi University, Kenya. In UNESCO, women in Higher Education in Africa. Dakar : UNESCO.

Murrell, P., and Donohue, W. (1982). The life cycles and career stages of senior-level administrative women in higher education. Memphis, TN: Memphis State University. (Eric Document Reproduction service No. ED 219 018)

Moody, B. (2004). African American women in higher education: Explorimg the challenges and experiences at Louisiana public college and universities" Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 65(10)

Morrison, A.M., White, R.P. & VanVelsor, E.(1992).B*reaking the Glass Ceiling (*2nd Edition) Reading, MA: Addison-Wesley.

Mukherjee, I. (1972). Social Status of North Indian Women. Agra: Shivalal Agrawal and Co.

National Policy on Education.(1986). Government of India. New Delhi: Ministry of Human Resource Development

Naholi, G. (2008). A study of cuurent and former women in faculty and administrative positions at East Tennessee State University.Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 69(4).

Nakama ,D.A. (2005).Leadership, power & collaboration: Understanding women educational leader's experiences through a feminist lens. University. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 66(4).

Noe, R.A. (1988). Women and Mentoring: A Review and Research Agenda. Academy of Management Review. Vol 13.

Nzomo, M. (1995). Women in top management in Kenya. Nairobi: African Association for public administration and management.

Oaks, J. (1999). Women as capable leaders in higher education administration: A historical journey with implications for professional mentoring. A leadership Journal: Women in leadership – Sharing the Vision. 3(2).

O'Laughlin, E. M., & Bischoff, L. G. (2001, Winter). Balancing parenthood and academia: The challenges and contradictions of academic careers. Advancing Women in Leadership Journal, 4. Retrieved April 8, 2002, from http://www.advancingwomen.com/awl/winter2001/index.html

Ononiwn, I .(2001). A study of selected women administrators and their perceptions of the challenges encountered in achieving high level positions in higher education administration. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 62 (3).

Onsongo, J. (2002). Empowering women in Higher Education Management: The case of Kenya. Paper presented at the World's Women Congress 2002. The Department of Gender studies & Development. Makerene University Orman, P. (2002). Foot prints to the academic deanship: women generative leadership and power. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 63 (8).

Parkway, F.W., & Currie.G. (1992).Sources of support for the beginning Principal. In F.W. Parkay & G.E. Hall(Eds.), *Becoming a Principal:The challenges of beginning leadership.*Needham Heights, MA:Allyn & Bacon.

Paul, C.A., Sweet, R., and Brigham. (1980). Personal, educational and career characteristics of male and female community college administrators in Massachusetts. Journal of eh National Association for Women Deans, Administrators and Counselors. 44 (1).

Porat, K. L. (1991). Women in administration: The difference is positive. The Clearing House. 64.

Powell, G.N. and Graves, L.M (2003). Women and men in Management. 3rd ed., C.A : Sage, Thousand oaks.

Powell, G.N.(1993). Women and Men in Management. CA.: Sage, Beverley Hills.

Powell, G.N and Mainiero, L.A. (1992). Cross- currents in the river of time: Conceptualising the complexities of Women's careers. Journal of Management.

Pradhan, S., Talegaonkar,V., Choudhary, R. (2009). Perception of barriers faced by women education managers. Women in educational management: Vision and Action. Jaipur: Book Enclave Publishers.

Programme of Action. (1992).Government of India. New Delhi: Ministry of Human Resource Development

Pyke, S. L. (2001). Sitting in the principal's chair: Women voicing their experiences. Doctoral dissertation. DeKalb.: Northern Illinois University.

Ragins, B.R., Townsend, B. & Mattis, M. (1998) . Gender gap in the executive suite: CEOs and female executives report on breaking the glass ceiling. *Academy of Management Executive.*12.

Ram, S. (2004). Women through Ages. New Delhi : Commonwealth Publishers.

Ramsundar, S. (2006). The leadership styles of female African American administrators at the deans level and higher Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 67 (5).

Restine, L. N .(1993). Women in Administration : Facilitators for change. Newbury Park, CA : Corwin Press.

Rosynsky, M. (2003). The experience of Women College Presidents : An oral history. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 63 (12).

Rouse, S. E. (1990). Factors that influence the career development of Mississippi community college female administrators. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. 60 (6).

Sagaria, M.A. (1988). Administartive mobility and gender: patterns and processes in higher education. Journal of Higher Education. 59(3).

Sandler, B., and Hall, R. (1986). The campus climate revised: Chilly for women faculty, administrators and graduate student. Washington, D.C.: Project on the status of Women Association of American Colleges.

Santee, W. (2006). A study of women in senior level administration at member Institutions of the Council of Christian Colleges and Universities. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 67(12).

Schreiber, P. J. (1998). Women's career development patterns. New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education, 80(5).

Scott, T. (2005). Women of color leaders in higher education : Four portraits Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 66 (4).

Selected Educational Statistics. (2007). New Delhi : Ministry of Human Resource Development.

Shakeshaft, C. (1987). Women in educational administration. Newbury Park, CA: Sage.

Singh, C. A. (1990). Study of women executives in Bombay: Their roles at home and work, Bombay, India, 1990, 5291. Theses (Ph.D.), SNDT, Women's University.

Shinn, S. (2002). At the top of her game. Focus: Women in management education [Electronic version]. BizEd, July/August.

Shyamlal. (2000). Untold story of a Bhnagi Vice-Chancellor. Jaipur: University Book House (P). Ltd.

Singh, C. A. (1990). Study of women executives in Bombay: Their roles at home and work, Bombay, India, 1990, 5291. Theses (Ph.D.). SNDT, Women's University.

Sipple, B. (2007). Life as a gyroscope: Creating a grounded theory model for full time working mothers in higher education administration developing and Maintaining a fulfilling, balanced life. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science, Vol 68(11).

Springer, M. (2003). The presidency as journey (not destination) [Electronic version]. The Presidency, 6(1).

Steinke, K. (2006). Madwoman, queen and alien being: the experiences of first time women presidents at small private colleges. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 67(2).

Still, L.V. (1997). Glass Ceilings and Sticky Floors (Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission Report. Sydney: Electric Press.

Storey, S. (2005). Factors affecting women becoming directors of education in Saskatchewan" Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 66 (6).

Sturnick, J.K., Milley, J.E., and Tisinger, C. (Eds). (1991). Women at the helm: Pathfinding Presidents at state colleges and universities. Washington D.C.: American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

Sudduth, M. (2003). The professional development model for African American women in leadership roles within professional associations with a higher education membership base: Implications for adult education Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science Vol 64(5).

The First Five Year Plan, Government of India, 1951,

Sixth Five Year Plan, Government of India 1980-85.

Thomas, M.D. (1986). Why aren't women administering our schools? NASSP Bulletin, 70(488), 90-92.

Thompson, C.A., Beauvais, L.L., & Lyness, K. (2000). When work-family benefits are not enough: The influence of work-family culture on benefit utilization, organizational attachment, and work-family conflict. Journal of Vocational Behavior, 54.

Thompson-Stacy, C. (1995). Strategies for overcoming gender bias in higher education: A descriptive study of female higher education administrators in a Midwestern state (Doctoral dissertation, University of Sarasota, 1995). Dissertation Abstracts International, 57, (02).

Tinsley, A., Secor., C., and Kaplan, S. (1984). Women in higher Education. New Directions for Higher Education, (45). San Francisco: Jossey-Bass, Inc. Publishers.

Touchton, Shavlik and Davis. (1993). Women in Precidencies: A descriptive study of women college and university presidents. Washington, D.C.: American Council of Education.

Twale, D. (1995). An analysis of higher education administrative appointments : A focus on women from 1986 to1991. Paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the Eastern Educational research Association. Hilton Head. SC.

Twombly, S.B., and Moore, K.M. (1991). Social origins of higher education administrators. The Review of Higher Education. 14(4).

UNESCO. (1993). Women in Higher Education management. Paris : UNESCO.

UNESCO (1998) Higher Education in the 21st century: Vision and Action, Report on world conference in Higher Education. Report of UNESCO's world conference on Higher Education. Paris:UNESCO..

Universities hand book. (2000). New delhi : Association of Indian Universities

Universities hand book. (2003). New delhi : Association of Indian Universities

Universities hand book. (2010). New delhi : Association of Indian Universities

Upadhayaya, B.S. (1974). Women in Rigveda. New Delhi : Chand and Co. Pvt. Ltd.

Varghese, M.A. (1990). Women administrators in Education. New Delhi: Harvard Pub.

Verma, S.B. (2005). Status of women in Modern India. New Delhi: Deep and Deep Publications Pvt Ltd.

Vertz, L.L. (1985). Women occupational Advancement, and mentoring: An Analysis of one Public Organisation. Public Administration Review. Vol 45.

Villadsen, A. W., & Tack, M. W. (1986). Combining home and career responsibilities: The methods used by women executives in higher education. In P. A. Farrant (Ed.), Strategies and attitudes: Women in educational administration (pp. 170-175). Washington, DC: National Association for Women Deans, Administrators, and Counselors.

Vinnicombe, S., Singh, V. (2003). Women-only Management training: An essential part of women's leadership development. Journal of Change Management. 3(4).

Wajcman, J. (1998). Managing like a man. University Park, PA: Pennsylvania State University Press.

Walton, K.D. (1996). Against the tide: Career paths of women leaders in American and British higher education. Bloomington: Phi Delta Kappa Educational Foundation.

Walton, K. D., & McDade, S. A. (2001). At the top of the faculty: Women as chief academic officers. In J. Nidiffer, & C. T. Bashaw (Eds.), Women administrators in higher education (pp. 85-100). Albany, NY: State University of New York Press.

Waring, A.L. (2003). African-American female college presidents: Self conceptions of leadership. Journal of Leadership and Organisational studies. 9(3).

Warner, R. and Defleur, L.B. (1993). Career paths of women in Higher Education administration. In P.T. Mitchell (Ed). Cracking the wall: Women in Higher Education administration. Washington, D.C. : College and University Personnel Association.

Warner, R., Brazell, J., Allen, R., Bostick, S., and Marin, P. (1988). Career Paths in higher Education administration. Research report from the Oakland University Chapter of the American Council on Education. (ERIC Document Reproduction Service No. ED 294 506).

Watkins, R., Herrin, M., & McDonald, L. (1998). The juxtaposition of career and family: A dilemma for professional women. Advancing Women in Leadership Journal, 2. Retrieved September 11, 2006 from www.advancingwomen.com/awl/winter98

Weisman, J. (2002). Professional organizations. In A. M. Aleman, & K. A. Renn (Eds.), Women in higher education: An encyclopedia (pp. 502-505). Santa Barbara, CA: ABC-CLIO, Inc.

Wertheimer, M. (1925). Drei abhandlungen zur gestalt theorie. Erlangen: Philosophische Akademie.

Whitaker, J. (2006). Women in the middle: A qualitative study of the leadership experiences of female central office administrators. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science Vol 67(7).

White, K. (2003). Women and Leadership in Higher Education in Australia. Tertiary Education and Management. 19(1).

Whiting, V.R. and De Janasz, S.C. (2004). Mentoring in the 21st century: using the internet to build skills and networks. Journal of Management Education. Vol. 23.

Wicker, I. (2008). African American women athletics administrators: Pathway to leadership, positions in the NCAA a qualitative analysis. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 69(9).

Wilbanks, J. (2005). Collegiate Bureaucracy: Barriers that affect the hiring and promotion of female administrators in state supported higher education institutions in south Carolina, Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science Vol.66 (7).

Wilking K. (2001). Asian pacific American female chief executive officers in Higher education: their challenges and strategies to the top. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science Vol 62 (3).

Willer, A. (2002). Profile, barriers, and leadership behaviours of women campus recreation directors, Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science Vol 63 (7).

Williams, E. (2007). Mentoring relationships and the career advancement of African American female administrators in higher education : Exploring intersections of race and gender. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 69 (1).

Williams, M. (2007). Voices of three African American female college presidents: A qualitative study of their journeys. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science, Vol 68 (4).

Williams, R.C., and Piper, D.L., (1988). Women in higher education administration: Constraints and the characteristics necessary to overcome them. *National Forum of Educational Administration and Supervision Journal.*5(2).

Willis, R. (2004). Mentoring relationships as perceived by African American women in higher level educational administration leadership positions. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 65 (11).

Wilson, R. (2000). A couple's struggle to find good jobs in the same city. The Chronicle of Higher Education, XLVI(33), A16 – A18.

Wirth, L. (2001). Breaking through the glass ceiling: Women in management. Geneva. : ILO.

Wise, M.(2003).Gender limitations in HE administration. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 65(7).

Woosnam, M.(2007). Journey to leadership: women administrators in architecture. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 8(3).

Wootton, P. (2006). The few who succeed: women administrators in higher education *Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. V*ol 67 (5).

Yee, S. (2007). A case study of career paths for women of color athletic administrators. The Intersection of race and gender. Dissertation Abstract International: A Humanities and Social Science. Vol 68 (11).

Yoder, J. D. (2001). Making leadership work more effectively for women. Journal of Social Issues, 57(4).

Zakery, F. (1991). Administrative advancement of women in higher education institutions in Missouri (Doctoral dissertation, University of Missouri-Columbia, 1991). Dissertation Abstracts International, 53 (5)

WEBLIOGRAPHY

http://www.hindubooks.org/manusmriti.pdf

http://www.sacred-texts.com/hin/rigveda/

http://www.hindunet.org/vedas/rigveda/

http://www.experiencefestival.com/yajnavalkya_smriti

http://www.roopinder.com/blog/video http://www.youtube.com/results?search_query=kusuma+kumari+news&aq=f

http://www.planningcommission.gov.in/plans/planrel/fiveyr/welcome.html

SKU Executive Council disapproves appointments. (2010, 07 Feb). Express News Service

A varsity falls from prestige as VC ducks for cover. (1999, March, 28). Express News Service

KSOU to help more rural students (2003, May, 10). The Hindu.

First lady V-C for open varsity. (2003, Jun. 27).The Hindu.

KSOU to help more rural students (2003, May, 10). The Hindu.

First lady V-C for open varsity. (2003, Jun. 27).The Hindu.

Temporary employees of KSOU stage protest. (2005, Nov. 6). The Hindu

Government intervention sought in KSOU. (2005, Nov. 22) The Hindu.

VC accused of dereliction of duty. (2007, May, 12). The Hindu.

Row over `ill-treatment' of VC hots up (2007, May, 10). The Hindu.

KSOU row takes a new turn (2007, May, 20). The Hindu.

Up in arms against `anti-women' policies (2007, jun, 12). The Hindu.

KSOU striking employees promised preference during recruitments (2007, May, 29). The Hindu

KSOU employees' issue is back to square one. (2007, May 30). The Hindu

SPMVV focus on restructuring courses. (2009, Jul 13). The Hindu.

SK Varsity VC refuses to conduct council meet. (2010, March 31). Deccan Cronicle

Panel receives 400 complaints against VC (2010, April 22nd).Deccan Chronicle