

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my sincere regard to my guide, Dr. (Miss) M.M. Shah, Reader in Department of Education, M.S. University, Baroda, for her constant guidance and encouragement to complete this research work with confidence. This work would not have been completed without the valuable guidance and close supervision by her. This is evidenced by the fact that she carefully went through every word of my research work.

Thanks to Dr. D.R. Darji, Dr.(Smt.) P.B. Dekhtawala and Dr.(Smt.) N.A. Shelat for their kind help in the conduct of this study.

Dr.(Smt.) Aram Polyooth, Mr. Vijaraj Pengphol and Phra Kovit Voothisarnsoonthorn who helped me by sending necessary materials for this research work, deserve my deepest thanks.

Mr. A.S. Karkaria is acknowledged for the excellent typing. Words fail me to express my deep sense of gratitude to Mr. A.S. Karkhanis for the preparation of drawing charts for the present work.

Thanks are due to Dean, Prof. D.B. Desai, Prof. M.S. Yadav, Prof. P.K. Dongre and other members of the Faculty of Education and Psychology, M.S.

University, Baroda, for their support in this research work.

I thank all my colleagues, friends and members of different education systems who have extended their co-operation in one way or the other.

I wish to take this opportunity to record my regard to Mrs. S.S. Padhye, CASE Librarian, for providing me help while collecting relevant reference materials.

I also acknowledge my indebtedness to the authors of different works which I have referred to, which enabled the work to take the shape of a scientific study.

April 4, 1983.

Vichao Pengphol