	Preface	-	i
	Acknowledgements	-	vii
	Contents	-	viii
	List of Flow Charts	-	ix
	List of Tables	-	xiii
	List of Appendices	-	xiv

CHAPTER I	PROLOGUE	-	1
CHAPTER II	ABOUT THE PRESENT STUDY	-	11
	1. Adopting Systems Approach	-	12
	2. Kaufman's Systems Model of Education.	-
	3. The Model followed in the Study	-	14
	4. Objectives of the Study	-	16
	5. Delimitations	-	17
	6. Terms Defined	-	18
	7. The Procedure Followed	-	21
CHAPTER III	STUDY OF RELEVANT LITERATURE	-	25
	1. Educational Technology	-	25
	2. Educational Technology in the West	-	27
	3. Educational Technology in India	-	28
	4. Characteristics of Programmed Learning	-	29
	5. Programming Styles.	-	31
	6. Programming Procedure	-	35
	7. Teaching of English and Educational Technology	-	37

8. Programmes in English	-	40
9. Programmed Learning and Teaching of Languages: Research Studies	-	42
10. The Systems Concept	-	45
11. The Systems Approach	-	47
12. Systems Procedure	-	48
13. Systems Approach to Classroom instruction	-	52
14. Application of Systems Approach	-	53
15. Programmed Teaching	-	56
CHAPTER IV
ANALYSIS OF DIFFICULTIES AND EXPLORING ALTERNATIVES	-	58
1. The Instructional Model	-	59
2. Factors Influencing the Instructional Output	-	62
3. Types of Difficulties	-	65
4. Developing the Questionnaire	-	70
5. Analysis of the Questionnaire	-	71
6. Quantifying the Responses	-	73
7. Administering the Questionnaire	-	74
8. Analysis of Data	-	75
9. Validity of Teachers' Views	-	84
10. Difficulties Residing in the Supra System	-	87
11. Exploring Alternatives	-	88
12. Programmed Learning: An Alternative	-	92
13. Reasons for not Proposing Programmed Learning as an Alternative	-	95
14. Programmed Learning be made a part of the Total System	-	96
15. Programmed Teaching	-	97
16. Programmed Teaching as a Systems Approach	-	100
17. Components of Programmed Teaching	-	100
18. Programmed Teaching and Felt Difficulties	-	102

CHAPTER V	PLANNING THE EXPERIMENT	- 106
	1. The Experimental Approach	- 107
	2. Selecting the Experimental Design	- 110
	3. Objectives of the Experiment	- 111
	4. Statement of Experimental Hypothesis	- 111
	5. Delimitations of the Experiment	- 111
	6. Description of Sample	- 112
	7. Designing the Groups	- 116
	8. Equating the Groups	- 117
	9. Identification of Intervening Variables	- 118
	10. Controlling Intervening Variables	- 118
CHAPTER VI	DESIGNING THE TREATMENT	- 121
	1. Treatment Introduced in the Control Group	- 121
	2. Treatment Introduced in the Experimental Group	- 122
	3. Designing Programmed Teaching System	- 122
	4. Allocating Functions	- 131
	5. Interaction of Elements	- 135
CHAPTER VII	IMPLEMENTING THE STRATEGY	- 137
	1. Contacting the Teachers	- 137
	2. Specifying the Content to be Taught	- 139
	3. Specification of Teachers' Role	- 139
	4. Collection of the Pre-Expt. Data	- 141
	5. Launching the Experiment	- 143
	6. Periodic Verification	- 148
	7. Incidental Observations	- 150
	8. Programmed Teaching and School Administration	- 150

CHAPTER VIII	EVALUATION	- 152
	1. Evaluating the Experimental Results	- 152
	2. Evaluating Programmed Teaching	- 161
	3. Evaluating the Study	- 163
CHAPTER IX	RESUME' AND RECOMMENDATIONS	165
	1. Resume'	- 165
	2. Some Developmental Issues	- 169
	3. Procedural Changes Suggested	- 170
	4. Suggestions to Future Researchers	- 170
	5. Conclusion	- 171
