

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It gives me great pleasure on the completion of my journey as a research scholar which would be followed by a new role in my life. This transition was not as easy as it seemed but I was grateful to receive assistance from many which made this journey possible.

First, I would like to thank almighty for being with me always from beginning to the end. The animals who have sacrificed their lives for the sake of science and mankind deserve special acknowledgements. May their souls rest in peace.
