

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This thesis is a reflection of the many who have given input, support, motivation, encouragement, valuable time, helping me along this doctoral journey. Sincere gratitude is extended to all those who assisted and guided me in this endeavour.

This thesis has been shaped, guided and transformed by my guide, Prof. R. G. Kothari, former Dean and Head of the Faculty of Education and Psychology, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara and former Vice Chancellor Veer Narmad South Gujarat University, Surat. It is my pleasure to extend my sincere gratitude to him for his authentic directions and valuable suggestions. He made himself available whenever I needed to clear doubts. His guidance was par excellence. I am particularly thankful to him for encouraging me to pursue the difficult task of converting my professional experience to professional knowledge. I would like to acknowledge for his wisdom in guiding this thesis combining his expertise in the field of educational research with patience, encouragement, guidance and respect for all my efforts.

I take this opportunity to express my deep gratitude to my school, The Convent of Jesus and Mary Girls High School, Baroda., from where I had my initial education in values. My gratitude to my reverend CJM sisters, teachers and my peers whose contributions made me capable of reaching this point in my life.

And later, at University level, I am fortunate to receive education at The Faculty of Education and Psychology, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara., from where I received education in values at broader level and value education in teacher education. My sincere gratitude to all my professors - Prof.R.G.Kothari, Prof.R.C.Patel, Prof.S.Kumar, Prof.S.C.Panigrahi, Prof.Dipti Oza Prof.D.R.Goel, Prof.R.S.Mani, Prof.Harsha Patadia, Prof.Chhaya Goel, Prof.N.Pradhan, Prof.Ashutosh Biswal, Prof.Sujata Srivastava, Prof.N.P.Deota, Prof.Satish Pathak, Prof.K.Pushapanadham, Prof. Jaishree Das, Prof.Anjali Khirwadkar, Prof.Milind Sahasrabudde, Prof.Anjali K. Mehta, Sir Acharya, Dr.Y.D.Rao, Dr.V.D. Thomas, Dr. K.S. Joseph. I consider myself fortunate and I thank God for giving me opportunity to have my education under these dedicated expert professors whose contributions have immensely attributed to my efficiency to do this research work.

I am immensely grateful to Dr. Rashmin Sompura for his assistance to me in the statistical analysis of the data. He spared his valuable time in helping me and always made himself available whenever I had to clear any doubts.

I am grateful to Dr. Kiran Pandya for taking time to read my research proposal, which I presented at the initial stage, and responding with corrections, insightful suggestions and guidance.

I am immensely grateful to the experts who took time to read the statements and helped me in the validation of the statements. I am thankful to them for giving me their valuable suggestions in terms of additions/deletions of statements, modification of statements; acceptability of language and coherence of statements with their components. My special thanks to the expert who guided me to change the verbs used in the statements to attitudinal verbs.

My heartfelt gratitude to Prof. Dipti Oza for her precious words of motivation, encouragement, intellectual and moral support and guidance which build confidence and created energy to proceed further, during my student days and also for the thesis.

I offer my sincere gratitude to the principals of the seventy-five schools selected for the study, who gave me permission to administer the Attitude Scale for the pilot study and for the implementation of the final draft.

My sincere gratitude to the thousand teachers of seventy-five schools who took time out of their busy schedule of work in school to assist me; who enthusiastically responded to the Attitude Scale and gave their opinion; while doing so they provided me with the most important ingredient of the thesis – the data. They generously gave their time to help me construct the knowledge present in the thesis. Without the help of these precious people it would not have been possible to finish the thesis.

My heartfelt gratitude to Dr.Prerana Shelat, Dr.Jyotsna Amin, Dr.Rina Choudhary, Dr.R.L.Madhvi, Dr.Priti Chaudhari, Dr.Kashyapi Awasthi, Dr.Sheetal Helaiya who were my colleagues; for all their academic help for the thesis. My heartfelt thanks to research scholar, A.V.Jayalaksmi, Dr. Arti ,Nisha who reviewed and made corrections and suggestions, which I gladly followed when revising the thesis for the final stage.

I am thankful to the librarian and staff members of Smt. Hansa Mehta Library of the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara., indeed a great treasure of knowledge in the precious books, for my research work. My special thanks to Mrs. Jyoti Bhatt for all the assistance given to me in the library at many occasions and for my research work. I am grateful to the librarian of CASE library, former librarian Mr. Y.K. Pandya.

I express my sincere gratitude to Gujarat Vidyapith Library, Ahmedabad., and Gujarat University Library, Ahmedabad., for giving me permission to refer journals, books on values and value education.

My sincere gratitude to the office staff of CASE office especially to Divya, Nilima, Rajput; the staff of office of Faculty of Education and Psychology and the staff of the office of Maharaja Sayajirao University and Mr N. Chokshi in providing assistance with Audio/Visual aids.

I am immensely grateful to those authors whom I mentioned at appropriate places in this thesis from whose books /articles /theses /journals; I made myriad references. I am immensely grateful to reverend M.Pia Nazareth, rjm; for her books on values which were great source for me in the development of values. I am immensely grateful to Prof. Kireet Joshi and Prof. Mohit Chakravarti for their philosophical concepts expressed on Truth, Beauty, Goodness, which inspired me and guided me in the thesis. I am immensely grateful to L. L. Thurstone's Attitudes can be Measured and M. Rokeach's The Nature of Human Values and Value Systems, which helped me and gave guidance to me in the construction of Attitude Scale.

I am immensely thankful to Roopa Kudva for the assistance for the power point slides and my gratitude to Jhakhi Malek for the computer work.

My heartfelt gratitude to my husband, Vivekanand for his patience, encouragement, cooperation, motivation and support. My sincere gratitude to my parents for their intellectual and emotional support, which are invaluable. They are the wind beneath my wings. They set an example for me of perseverance, diligence, resilience, self-discipline, hard work and respect for education and knowledge the qualities which help me to cross all the obstacles, sorrows which come in the way and proceed courageously and confidently to complete the work undertaken. They extended their assistance at every stage; I offer my gratitude to them, my mother Dr. Malathy and my father Er. N. Dinker.

I bow down with love and respects to our, The Maharaja Sayajirao University Song which is sung at our morning assembly of Department of Education, the divine song which used to energise me and give me inspiration to do something. Moreover, this thought later guided me in the formation of the title of the study, which resulted in this thesis. Words cannot adequately express my gratitude to my alma matter, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara., where I had my university education throughout, and now I feel to present this thesis as my humble offering to my alma matter.
