Completion of this doctoral dissertation was merely possible with the support of several people. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to all of them. First of all, I am extremely grateful to my research guide, Dr. Jayashree Pohnerkar, for her valuable guidance, scholarly inputs with her immense knowledge in the field, consistent encouragement and motivation with never ending patience. The passion and curiosity for science is solely nurtured in me by her. This feat is only possible because of her unconditional support. During our course of interactions, I have learned extensively from her. She is a person with amicable disposition and kind heart. She always made herself available to learn. I owe her lots of gratitude. I hope to continue to work in science with her noble thoughts and strong research ethics.

I take this opportunity to earnestly acknowledge Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), Government of India, New Delhi, for providing financial assistance in the form of Senior Research Fellowship which propped me to perform my work comfortably.

I am grateful to the Vice Chancellor, the Registrar and the Dean - Faculty of Science, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda for providing all necessary facilities to accomplish my doctoral studies.

The environment of the Biochemistry Department becomes truly scientific because of research scholars of different labs who are always ready for scientific discussions and assistance. The list of research scholars cum friends is too long, few names are - Ankita (CRPL), Radha (LPL), Abhay (SGL), Rushikesh (CRPL), Lakshmi (RSL) and many others.

I have learned a lot during my interactions with brilliant M.Sc. students of Biochemistry department – Mansi, Tanay, Maitri, Harshit, Maulik, Devika, Sameer, Saurjeet, Jay, Aditi, Shreya, Priya, Nidhi & Prarthi with whom I worked on the project. Their efforts and interest gave new direction to the project.

I would like to specially acknowledge Prof. David Hopwood (JIC, U.K.) and Prof. Mervyn Bibb (JIC, U.K.), for offering me place at John Innes/ Rudger Boskovic summer school on "Microbial Diversity and Specialised Metabolites" 2016 (Croatia) to present poster. It was a real learning experience with pioneers of the field which helped to escalate my knowledge. The positive feedback on our project of Streptomyces from the eminent scientists of the field along with constructive criticism helped and boosted our spirit to prepare first draft of the manuscript. I learned a lot during scientific lectures and interactions with Prof. Gerry Wright (McMaster Uni., Canada), Prof. Roberto Kolter (Harvard Medical School), Prof. Greg Challis (Warwick University, U.K.) and many more. I can't forget the weeklong stay with eminent scientists and students of similar interest in the beautiful old city of Dubrovnik, Croatia.

Last but not least, I would like to thank my father, my mother, my husband and my little sister for their unconditional trust, never ending patience, support and timely encouragement to fulfill my dream. I would like to specially express thanks to Jay, Parth, Hiral (elder friends of Naksh) and their families for their altruistic love and care for my tiny toddler.

Finally, I would like to thank lord almighty for everything.
