Life is like a journey on road, full of gradual twists and turns. Once you start enjoying them, you feel as if God has specially designed them for you. I too, took a 180 degree turn from my corporate life to pursue my dream of earning a doctorate. Today, when I stand at the verge of completion, waiting for next phase of my life, I feel fortunate enough to have been blessed, supported, guided and helped by the most adorable.

I would not have moved an inch, if it was not the will of the supreme power. I convey my gratitude to The Almighty, without whose blessings, I would not definitely be, where I stand today.

I express my gratefulness and acknowledge Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, Ministry of Science, India, for extending financial support for my Ph.D. tenure as Senior Research Fellow (SRF). Also I am thankful to DBT-MSUB- ILSPARE for supporting me financially, towards the end of my term.

I am thankful to Prof. Parimal Vyas, Pro-Vice Chancellor and Prof. A. C. Sharma, Dean, Faculty of Science, at The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda for giving me an opportunity to work in this esteemed university and providing me the entire ecosystem to work within.

It is near to impossible, that any journey can be accomplished, unless you move in the right direction at the right speed. God entrusts this pious and tiresome task to none other, than the Guru who holds your Hand, opens your Mind and touches your Heart. In my case, God sent none other than, my guide, my torchbearer, my guru, Prof. Sarita Gupta. Mam, you are at the scientific best and needless to mention, the credit of this work goes straight to you. You also taught me the vital essence, where to look rather than what to see, in the style, unprecedented and not commonly mastered by all. It was you as a woman, who understood me as a lady and supported me through my and my family's ups and downs. It was your sternness, care and your trust in me that has brought me to this stage. It is you as a guide and Guru, who moulded me and has made me capable to take on the path ahead. You were the best guide for me, ma'am. Shat, Shat Naman to you, Ma'am.

Research is incomplete unless it has some clinical relevance and in my case, availability of human samples from Nova Pulse IVF Clinic, Ahmedabad came as a boon to me. For the same, I am highly indebted towards Dr. Manish Banker and Dr. Preeti Shah. They not only provided me with samples but also encouraged me with their keen interest in my research, guided me in the right direction and did all the humdrum logistic tasks.

I express my gratefulness to Dr. Sharad Gupta, Gupta Pathology lab for all the the guidance related to hormone analysis. It was his expertise that helped me a lot in histological examinations.

Few persons on this earth are simply gems. They keep on helping others and don't need a reason to help. It was Prof. Van Luu The, The (CHUL Research Centre and Laval University, Canada, Dr. Douglas Stocco, Texas Tech University, Prof. R. K. Rao (University of Tennessee, Memphis, USA) and Prof. Girish Shah, Laval University, Quebec, Canada, who helped me with the few important antibodies. The same were utilized in the experiments and I am really thankful to them.

A researcher spends her time mainly at two places, her residence and her second home, the lab, where for many days, the time spent is more than the former. My second home, Biochemistry department has got the elements, which made it perfect for me. The guidance and love of all teachers made it an adorable place for me. I would like to express my humble gratitude to all my guiding teachers, Prof. G. Naresh Kumar (who gave valuable suggestions based on his experience), Prof. Rasheedunisa Begum(who often as my internal guide gave critical and very helpful comments), Prof. C. RatnaPrabha (a simple lady, who always greeted with a smile), Dr. Jayshree Pohnerkar (who has a humble and caring nature), Dr. Shashikant Acharya (who is always there for the students), Prof. Pushpa Robin (A very gentle lady), Dr. Laxmipriya (Guru sister of mine, who eventually became more of my friend and senior, rather than teacher), Dr. Devesh Suthar (who helps in carving personality of the research scholars) and Dr. Rajesh Singh (A man whose valuable suggestions during the annual presentations always inspired me) and Dr. Ravi Vijayvargia (whose hard work always inspired a lot). My special thanks to Dr. M.D.Jani for advising me, preventively, not to quit during Ph.D and this statement of his helped me a lot to complete the same.

I would also like to convey my hearty thanks to seniors of my lab Jyoti madam and Vihassir (for being ever ready for solving any difficulty), Anil sir, Chirayu sir and Neeraj sir (for helping each time immediately with various necessary articles from the esteemed journals even in their busy schedule}, Prakash sir (who apart from being a multitasking man and my external guide helped me to initiate my project with good supporting ideas) and Sanket sir(who taught the value of being admired by others).

At the second home, the maximum time is spent with colleagues. It would not be exaggerated to say that the journey without these wonderful peers would have been very boring and difficult. My special thanks to Nidheesh (great mind and efficient worker who introduced me to the culture of lab), Anubha (a compassionate companion), Tushar (whose taste for dishes kept the lab, an interesting place to be there), Akhilesh (A silent vegetarian, who is known for his silent humorous volleys), Raghita (whose lovely caring nature, help during my entire tenure of Ph.D and frank and critical suggestions in my thesis would be admired by me for life time), Abhay (whose politeness along with his other two passions, one to be IT savvy and other to be a sober person makes him admirable by all the beauties), Komal Rawal (a powerhouse of energy, cutie doll always happy and joking and a lovely supporter and admirer of mine), Mitul (An untiring, jolly natured, clear heart boy, who helped me at all the points, irrespective of the task), Gaurav (this smart, dashing boy with a French beard, when lays hands on the computer, it seems as if he is coddling his child) and Komal Chawda (who always gets excited on things including sindhi food that I made). My sincere thanks to all the research scholars of the department.

I am indebted to my Master Dissertation students, Kinjal, Nidhi, Ankita, Abhilash and especially Nupur, who worked as my shadow and whose help fast tracked my research.

Nothing is feasible without the resources, especially scientific equipment. Along with research equipment of my own department, I was fortunate to be able to avail facilities at DBT- MSUB- ILSPARE facility which provided substance to my work.

Similar were the minds and hands of our non-teaching staff of our Bio-chemistry department in the form of Pethe sir, Akshita madam, Manishbhai, Vyasbhai, Shaileshbhai, Balwant bhai, Sandeep bhai, Kiran bhai, Anil bhai and Kamble bhai. I would also like to thank Milind Sir, Kenneth sir, Chirag sir and Hetal ma'am of the GCU at the Registrar's office for being there whenever I needed them.

All said and done, it was my research with rats would not have been so smooth, unless I would have got hands of animal house staff, Rameshbhai, Vijaybhai and Narayanbhai to help. My hearty thanks to them for keeping animal house so clean and tidy to work there and keep all kinds of stock materials in case of emergencies in experiments.

While I was helped in a big way from outside, I derived my internal strength from my family, the strength that all the power in the world cannot undo. My family is an ever spinning spiral of energy. It is a circle of strength and love to me.

I thank my Late grandfather and grandmother who's I was the favourite, for their love and blessings. I thank my ever admiring father, Shri Bhagwandas Sadhwani who always inspired me to work hard until you achieve your goal and mother, Smt. Vimla Sadhwani for making me capable for this journey and also supporting me constantly throughout this period. I am thankful to my sweet sister Rita, my well-wisher Kamal Jijaji, my "gudda" Vinay for their great support, affection and lots of love that worked as stress buster whenever I was exhausted. I thank my late Nana who always felt proud for me as I attained new heights in my career and my sweet, caring and loving Nani to whom I still drop down for a cup of tea, home-made ice-cream, get relaxed talking to her and return back to work. All of them kept me moving.

My doctorate wouldn't have been possible in this conservative orientated society, if I would not have been blessed with loving and caring in-laws. I express my gratitude and love for my father-in-law Shri Baldev Belani and mother-in-law Smt Savitri Belani without whose support I could not have thought of completing my doctorate. Thanks a lot papa and mummy. I am thankful to Manish bhैया, for his all-time support wherever it may be, to lovely Sanvi, for being there whenever I needed her and my cute little angel Pavni whose smile itself released all my stresses. Thank you all for constantly inspiring and supporting me throughout the journey.

Needless to mention support, love and care of both my families was tremendous and is worth a thousand salutes.

I thank the Almighty God for bestowing me with lots of happiness in the form of my husband Anil who not only allowed me to fulfill my dream with his full support, tremendous love and care, but also helped me in completing it to his fullest. Last but not the least I thank God for bestowing me with my daughter Tanisha (mera bacha, meri bachhi, mere kaleje ka tukda, meri duniya, mera sabkuch) without whom this would have never been possible. You are the two gems of my life. Thank you so much to both of you for coming in my life and making it so beautiful.
