

Acknowledgments

My Ph.D. tenure at The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda has been an incredible journey with several ups and downs along the way. It is impossible to have managed it without support from others, and I am here to acknowledge all the people who have helped me to complete my Ph.D. program.

First and foremost, I would like to express sincere gratitude towards my thesis supervisor Prof. G. Archana and co-supervisor Dr. Debjani Bagchi for the immense support that they have provided throughout my time here. I would like to thank Dr. Bagchi for believing in me and sharing her scientific ideas and knowledge with me just like a friend. It has been an enlightening experience working with her, and she has been a pillar of strength through my tough times. I have learned the virtues of patience and perseverance from Prof. Archana, and her passion for science has been a constant source of inspiration. I am grateful to her for giving me this opportunity to work in her lab and for believing in me to carry out the designated research work. I will always be grateful to both of them for providing me with this platform to pursue my Ph.D. program, and I hope to repay the faith by performing to the best ability in all future endeavors.

I want to extend my sincere thanks to Prof. G. Naresh and Prof. S. Mukherjee for providing constant support and guidance with meaningful scientific discussions, and suggestions on all my research work; all of which have been invaluable towards the completion of my Ph.D. program.

I thank all the professors in the Department of Microbiology and Biotechnology Center for providing support in the time of need. I am also thankful to the non-teaching and administrative staff of the department for their help in rolling out all the kinds of paperwork needed during the program. I thank the University for providing me with the platform and the resources for continuing my research work. I extend my gratitude to University Grants Commission (UGC) for the fellowship during my Ph.D. program. I also express my sincere thanks to Vikram Sarabhai facility of MSU for providing the Raman spectroscopy facility and to Mr. Sharad Pillai, Department of Physics for his help in conducting the Raman experiments.

A special note of thanks is dedicated to my fellow lab mates in Ground Floor Lab, Anand, Jaswinder, Dipeksha, Prachi, Vipul, and Krishna for their support in and outside the lab and for the help needed at the time of emergency. I would also like to express my sincere gratitude to my seniors, Jitendra Gosai, Siddhi Vora, Abhi Shah, and Vihang Thite for their constant guidance and motivation. All other research scholars of the department never failed to give a helping hand whenever needed. I would also like to thank here Shipra Bhatt of the Department of Physics whose cordial and supportive nature stayed with me throughout my Ph.D. journey.

My Ph.D. thesis remains unrecognized without mentioning the M.Sc. dissertation students I have had in my tenure. Palak and Vaidehi hold a very special place in my heart. The positive approach towards life, the innocent and cheerful nature of Palak would always motivate me to never give up, while Vaidehi taught me determination and perseverance. Their engagement in the research project never went downhill, which helped me a lot in driving the project forward. Swarnali, Priyal, and Janvi were also full of energy and enthusiasm to work.

My entire Ph.D. journey would have been impossible if my best friend, colleague, and fellow lab mate, Juliya, would not have been there with me. She has been a strong pillar for me, with whom I could share all my sad and happy moments. I consider myself lucky to have had her company. She has not just been my best friend, but a lab partner in whom I would seek my entire faith. She always made the workspace fun-loving and would come to rescue me whenever I was stuck in my life.

Finally, I would like to acknowledge the people who mean a lot to me, my parents, without whom I would not have achieved and become what I am. My childhood friends, Abhilasha, Urbi, Anil, Saurabh, Ashish, Pallavi, and Priyanka have been my forever go-to place to relax and rejuvenate myself and stand again the next day. I would give a significant share and credit of my success to my best friend, my life partner, Ankit. Last and not least, I would like to thank the almighty God for giving me the strength, knowledge, ability, and opportunity to carry out this research study and to persist and complete it satisfactorily.
