It is a great pleasure for me to express my deep gratitude to my esteemed supervisor Dr. Snehal B. Rao, Assistant Professor in the Department of Applied Mathematics, Faculty of Technology and Engineering, The M. S. University of Baroda, Vadodara, Gujarat, India, for his invaluable guidance, constant encouragement with praise, effective assessment of our work, and for creating an environment conducive for learning. At the beginning of my research, whenever I started to read books and literature, he always motivated me and showed me the right direction in my research. Despite, having a heavy work load of teaching, departmental administrative work, and family responsibilities; he always managed time to check my work thoroughly. Without his continuous inspiration and support, it would not have been possible to complete our work this much effectively. His loving, caring, and friendly attitude has transformed many aspects of my life and triggered in me a miraculous drive to work. So, he is not only my research guide but my true mentor. Words are not enough to express my gratitude towards him.

The first research paper in Ph.D life is always a special moment. Therefore, a lot of credit is attributed to my co-author Dr. Jignesh P. Chauhan, Department of Mathematical Sciences, P. D.
