The journey of Ph.D is hardly a straight one as it has numerous ups and downs in its path. However, it finally brings immense happiness and satisfaction to reach the destination overcoming all the challenges. I have always felt that Ph.D is not a lone journey; number of individuals extend their direct or indirect support to achieve different milestones in every phase. It is just a humble effort to express gratitude to every one of them who contributed one or another way throughout this journey.

First and foremost, I would like to extend heartfelt gratitude to my Research guide Prof. (Dr.) M N Parmar without whom this dream will not have been fulfilled. His guidance, expertise and constant support have always motivated me to accomplish this task. Not only regarding Ph.D, I have also learned professional etiquettes and important life lessons from him. I am so much indebted to him for his invaluable contribution throughout this journey.

I am really thankful to Prof. (Dr.) Ankur Saxena, Dean, Prof. (Dr.) Bhavna Mehta, Head and Prof. (Dr.) Jagdish Solanki, Former Dean for their accessibility and facilitating administrative procedures smoothly. Their support has also been remarkable for giving insightful comments.

I express my thanks to Prof. (Dr.) Sunita Nambiar, Former Ph.D Coordinator and Dr. Kavita Sindhav, Ph.D Coordinator for tirelessly organizing various PhD presentations and administrative support.

I am very much grateful to Prof. Vijay Raghavan, Tata Institute of Social Sciences for his expert advice which helped me to get right answer for my confusions. He had always given enough time and allowed me to meet him at his office whenever I visited TISS irrespective of his busy schedule. He had also replied to every phone call and email communication with suggesting right direction when I needed guidance and support.

I want to express gratitude to external experts Dr. Vilas Chauhan, Prof. (Dr) K Pushpanadham and Prof. (Dr) Anjali Pahad for giving their special time and insightful suggestions during departmental presentation. I am grateful to Prof. (Dr) Adhya Saxena who acted as an expert during my Pre-Synopsis presentation and share her invaluable knowledge on the topic of study. A very special thanks to Prof. (Dr) Anjali Pahad who also acted as an expert during my Pre-PhD presentation.

I am really thankful to University Grants Commission, New Delhi for awarding me fellowship under JRF Scheme which supported my doctoral study financially. It helped me to carry out extensive field work for long time without any financial hurdle.

I am thankful to library staffs of Tata Institute of Social Sciences, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Faculty of Social Work and Gujarat Vidyapith who extended all their assistance during my visits for doctoral study.

I want to extend special thanks to Faculty of Social Work, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda for supporting me to pursue Ph.D in a chosen field. I am grateful to faculty members, technical staff and support staff of Faculty of Social Work for their all help during doctoral study.

I want to admit it that it would not have been possible without constant support and encouragement from my parent and family members. I am grateful to all of them from bottom of my heart. I want to express special thanks to my wife Poonam who bear my hectic schedule and giving of her time to PhD work with smiling gestures and also expressing my love and gratitude to our little baby girl Krishvi whose presence pushed me for more hard work to accomplish it.

It would be unfair if I forget to mention contribution of Devipujak community without whom the doctoral study would not have been completed. I am grateful to all the participants for accepting me and putting trust on me. Their contribution was invaluable for my doctoral journey. I am thankful to Mr. Kalsariya and Mr. Sathaliya who extended their much support during initial days of my field work.

With deep sense of gratitude, I want to acknowledge contribution of each and every person who has supported directly or indirectly in this journey.
