

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am using this opportunity to express my profound gratitude and appreciation to my respected guide Prof. N. Pradhan, Head Educational Administration (Rtd.), the M.S. University of Baroda for his insightful comments, suggestion and motivation at every stage of this thesis.

I would like to thank Prof. R.C. Patel, Dean of the Faculty of Education and Psychology and Head Department of Education, the M.S. University of Baroda for his care and support that has made my study in CASE possible. Without his understanding and efforts, it would not have been possible for me to study in India. I am also thankful to the M.S. University of Baroda for awarding me “University Scholarship” that has helped me to conduct this study. My sincere appreciation further goes Prof. N. Pradhan, Principal, RIE Bhopal who has helped me to locate CASE in India. I would like to thank the staff members and research scholars of CASE, the M.S. University of Baroda for their academic support and inspiration. A special appreciation is due for my friend, Soubagya Padhan, for providing me with material to clear my PET and making my life in India a wonderful time.

I am grateful to the Regional Directors of Education, the BTE staff members, student-teachers and Eeman teachers for providing me with the needed data to conduct this study. Also, I am highly indebted to Mr and Mrs Mwaawaru for their wonderful support towards the success of this research work.
