

School, Coimbatore and Sri B. Ekambaram, Headmaster, Mani Higher Secondary School, Coimbatore. But for their personal interest and their ever readiness to help her in all possible ways, she could not have completed this kind of challenging research work.

The investigator remembers with thanks the Heads of Institutions, staff and pupils of the Experimental and Control Group schools who have so kindly helped her in getting the basic data required for this investigation.

The investigator also remembers with gratitude the help and co-operation extended to her by her mother and her brothers and sisters in successfully completing her work.
