

C O N T E N T S

	Page
Chapter I The Rationale of the Problem	1 - 17
1.1      Introduction	1
1.2      Implications for Teaching	2
1.3      Language Development and Cognitive Development	5
1.4      Language Development and Social Perspectives	6
1.5      Dimensions of the Problem	10
1.6      Description of Terms	15
1.7      Limitation of the Study	16
 Chapter II
Section I - Theoretical Frame work	18-38
2.1      Introduction	18
2.2      Theoretical Background	18
2.3      Dimensions of Language	22
2.3.1 Content	22
2.3.2 Form	23
2.3.3 Use	24
2.4      Development of Language	26
2.5      Language Acquisition Theories - A Perspective	28
2.5.1 Structuralist Approach	29
2.5.2 Nativist Approach	31
2.6      Language and Cognition	34
2.7      Sociological Theories	36

	Section II - Review of Researches on Language Development	39-63a
2.8	Introduction	39
2.9	Studies Conducted Abroad	39
	2.9.1 International Studies Pertaining to Language Acquisition	40
	2.9.2 Language and Cognition	59
	2.9.3 Studies Related to Social Factors Infulencing Language Acquisition	60
2.10	Studies in Indian Contexts	62
Chapter III
	Section I - Methodological Issues in Describing Child Language	64-72
3.1	Introduction	64
	3.1.1 Obtaining Evidences	65
	3.1.2 Categorizing Evidences	70
	3.1.3 Formalizing Evidences	72
	Section II - Procedural Details	73-98
3.2	Introduction	73
	3.2.1 Design	73
	3.2.2 Sample	77
3.3	Development of tools and techniques	78
3.4	Pilot Study	80
	3.4.1 Pilot Study Phase - I	80
	3.4.2 Pilot Study Phase - II	87
3.5	Final Version of test	88

3.6	Procedures Adopted in Carrying out the study	96
3.6.1	Elicit Response	96
3.6.2	Playful situation	97
3.6.3	Structured test	97
3.6.4	Tests for Logical Reasoning	98
3.6.5	Interaction with family members	98
3.6.6	Language status	98
Chapter IV	Analysis and Interpretation	99-142
4.1	Introduction	99
4.2	Observations Regarding the Language Acquisition Patterns of Primary Entrants	113
4.3	Indepth study	115
4.4	Language Status	116
4.5	Language and its Correlates	120
	4.5.1 Language and Logical Reasoning Ability	123
	4.5.2 Language and Social Factors	125
4.6	Discussions	130
4.7	Implications for Mother tongue teaching at Primary level	132
Chapter V	Summary	143-162
5.1	Introduction	143
5.2	Bases of the Present Problem	143
5.3	Theoretical background	145
5.4	Present Study	149
5.5	Design	149
5.6	Sample	151

5.7	Details of the Study	151
	5.7.1 Development of tools & techniques	152
5.8	Final Study	156
5.9	Analysis and Interpretation	157
5.10	Implication for teaching	159
5.11	Suggestions for further Research	162
	References	163
	List of Tables	172
	Appendices	226