

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my deep gratitude and indebtedness to my guide Professor D.B. Desai, Faculty of Education and Psychology, M.S.University, Baroda for his keen interest, comprehensive guidance at every step and encouragement to me in the present study. He always welcomed my visits and readily spared time inspite of his very busy schedule. I offer my sincere thanks to him for the very kind help, guidance and inspiration that he has bestowed upon me. But for him this study would never have been completed.

I am also thankful to Prof. A.K. Mishra, Head of Vocationalisation unit at NCERT for his continuous support at various critical junctures of the study.

Dr. (Mrs.) Sudha Rao, Fellow, NIEPA, is a learned critic and many of the conclusions have been finalised after discussions with her. She always found time for me for which I will be always indebted to her.

Data is the backbone of any study. I was fortunate enough to meet Mr. B.P. Singh of Directorate of Education who not only provided the required data but also gave valuable suggestion regarding additional information not known to me. For this I shall always be thankful to him.

Any Research study requires help and cooperation of a large number of persons specially the respondents. I will always be in gratitude to all the principals of the schools, the teachers and the students who were the subjects of this study and contributed their valuable time for collecting basic field data.

Last but not the least my sincere thanks are also due to all my family members for their relentless cooperation. Thanks are specially due to my father, my mother in law and my Husband for their active and continuous cooperation at every stage.
