I thank my guide Professor M.S. Yadav, Head, Centre of Advanced Study in Education (CASE), M.S. University of Baroda for the help and academic freedom he gave during the course of the present doctoral work.

I am thankful to the Principal, Sayaji High School, Baroda for all help and cooperation he extended during the conduct of the study. I am grateful to the students of class one who were the 'subjects' of this doctoral research, their teachers, their parents, and other members of their families for their kind cooperation.

My thanks to Dr R. Govinda, currently Senior Fellow at the National Institute of Educational Planning and Administration, New Delhi and Dr P.K. Sahoo, Reader, Department of Education, D.A. University, Indore for their help and suggestions in the scheme of analysis of the study.

I thank Professor M.N. Palsane, Head, Department of Psychology and Dr A.P. Gore, Reader, Department of Statistics, both at the Poona University for their timely help while processing the data.

My special thanks to Ms Sarojben Padhye, Librarian, CASE for her unflinching help and encouragement always.

My heartfelt thanks to 'Amma', my mother-in-law, for the help and moral support she unstintingly gave while I struggled with my dual role of a housewife-cum-mother and a researcher. I am most grateful to her for shouldering a generous amount of my responsibilities during those most crucial months.

I am most indebted to my parents, but for whose constant encouragement I would not have accomplished this task. This doctoral work is the manifestation of all the years of encouragement and support they have given.

My THANKS to Shyam, my husband, for his constant encouragement and guidance.

And one last "thanks" to my friends and siblings who were always there.
