

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am greatly indebted to my guide Dr. M.S. Yadav, Professor of Education, in the Centre of Advanced Study in Education at the M.S. University of Baroda, for giving me the benefit of his valuable guidance at all stages of this study. His critical evaluation and judgement helped me to improve my work tremendously.

I am equally grateful to the Dean, Faculty of Education and Psychology, M.S. University of Baroda, for the opportunity given to me to carry out this study under the auspices of the Faculty.

My thanks are also due to Dr. K. Kumar, Reader, National Council of Educational Research and Training for his valuable suggestions throughout the conduct of the study.

I am also obliged to the Education Department of the Municipal Corporation of Delhi, the Headmistresses, teachers and students of the schools, for their cooperation at the data collection stage.

I am grateful to Doordarshan authorities, Delhi for providing facilities specially for previewing the programmes telecast for primary school children, during the period of study.

My thanks are also due to UNESCO authorities, Bangkok for providing me the relevant literature for the present study.

With a deep sense of gratitude, I acknowledge the help and cooperation extended to me by many of my colleagues and friends, at the National Council of Educational Research and Training, Centre for Advanced Study in Education, Baroda; and other institutions, at various stages of this study.

I am deeply grateful, too, to the National Council of Educational Research and Training for the permission, facilities and contingency grant made available to me for this project.

October, 1983.
